a. General: The area of interest was west of the Song Dong Nai River and located in the northwest part of Bien Hoa Province, encompassing a small portion of Binh Duong Province as well. The area of operation was to the west of War Zone "D", a long-established VC base area and a known rest and transit area for what were at least company-sized VC main forces and guerrilla units.
b. Terrain: The area is gently rolling with some small scattered hills. It is predominantly covered by primary jungle, with trees up to 100 feet in height and a double canopy, but also includes patches of rubber trees. Two small streams, the Suoi Cag Dong and the Suoi Vinh Lai, flow southwest through the area.
