d. (C) Operations. (See Incl 3)

(1) The 268th CAB provided aviation support for one major operation conducted by the Capitol ROK Infantry Division during this period. On 5 August 1968, the battalion furnished 30 UH1D/H, 8 UH1B, and 6 CH47 aircraft for a regimental size operation. The battalion aircraft completed 300 sorties lifting 1,953 troops and 50 tons of cargo.

(2) The subordinate units of the battalion continued normal operations with two assault helicopter companies in direct support of the 173rd Airborne Brigade, one assault helicopter company in direct support of the Capitol ROK Infantry Division, and three assault support helicopter companies and one aviation company (Hvy Hel) in general support of II CTZ.

e. (C) Training.

(1) All battalion units are scheduling and conducting mandatory recurring training.

(2) Additional training emphasized during this period has been crew training to include aircraft emergency procedures, aerial machine gun firing techniques, familiarization with the 2.75 inch rocket 17 pound warhead, refueling and general aircraft safety, and instrument flying procedures.

(3) Unit SIP's are continuing to conduct 90-day standardization rides in conjunction with operational missions providing the maximum practical benefit to the pilots and efficient utilization of aircraft.

(4) The 355th Aviation Company (Hvy Hel) sent 10 officers and enlisted men to a 4 day course of instruction pertaining to the Special Purpose Module for CH54 aircraft.

f. (C) Logistics.

(1) The authorized and assigned aircraft as of 31 October 1968 were as follows: (See Incl 4)

g. (U) Civil Affairs. The 268th CAB conducted the following Civil Affairs projects during this reporting period:

(1) The 433rd Medical Detachment, 268th CAB conducted weekly visits to four villages and a refugee camp. The detachment treated a total of 1,620 patients and trained 5 nurses, as well as distributing food, clothing, and medical supplies. During these visits the medical personnel emphasized raising health standards and preventive medicine techniques to responsible village officials in an effort to improve overall living conditions.

(2) The 546th Medical Detachment, 268th CAB operates a clinic twice each week to treat local civilians. A marked decrease has been noted in gastric ailments among children since this clinic was started.

(3) The 268th CAB distributed the following items to various villages, hospitals, and refugee camps during this period:

(a) Cement 125 bags
(b) Corrugated roofing 160 sheets
(c) Lumber 4,000 board feet
(d) Food 250 pounds
(e) Clothing 100 pounds
(f) Health items (soap) 300 pounds
(g) Medical supplies

(4) The 61st AHC distributed 75 bars of soap and 40 pounds of candy to the Bong Son refugee camp, and 250 bars of soap, 40 wooden ammo boxes (for furniture), and 10 sheets of corrugated roofing to the 40th ARVN Regt.

2. Section 2, Lessons Learned: Commander's Observation, Evaluation and Recommendations.

a. (C) Personnel.

(1) OBSERVATION. A critical shortage of cooks, helicopter mechanics, and clerical personnel exists within the battalion. Further, the experience level of replacements is extremely low in all fields. This is especially true of aircraft mechanics and aviators.

(2) EVALUATION. The large number of personnel departing in late October has created a situation of shortages in all MOS's. Although replacements are expected, if the current trend continues, the low experience level will necessitate an enormous amount of time being spent in training new personnel, and result in longer down time on aircraft. This will detract immeasurably from the accomplishment of unit missions, especially since the bulk of inexperience lies in the maintenance and aviator MOS's.

(3) RECOMMENDATION. That personnel replacement procedures be reviewed.
in order to furnish a more equitable distribution of experienced replacements.

b. (C) Operations.

(1) Aircraft and Crew Capabilities and Limitations.

(a) OBSERVATION. Ground force commanders are not fully aware of the capabilities and limitations of supporting aircraft and crews.

(b) EVALUATION. The education of ground forces in the effective utilization of supporting aircraft continues to be a major problem. Commanders do not recognize the requirement for daily maintenance on aircraft, failing to realize that an aircraft which is not properly maintained on a daily basis will soon require extensive maintenance causing the aircraft to be grounded for a long period of time. Commanders often fail to consider the capabilities and limitations of aircraft crew members. Because of the relative inexperience of the majority of assigned pilots, situations continually arise which place aircraft and crews in precarious positions, needlessly endangering lives and leading to the loss of valuable equipment. The commander can avoid loss of life and equipment in many cases by simply heeding the advice of a pilot who feels his capabilities are to be exceeded in the performance of a mission; i.e., flying at night in mountainous terrain during marginal weather conditions.

(c) RECOMMENDATION. That all aviation commanders be reminded of the absolute necessity of insuring that commanders of ground forces are fully aware of the capabilities and limitations of aircraft and crews. Further, that aviation commanders pursue the education of ground forces from the standpoint that it is a never-ending process of indoctrination concerning the conservation of valuable, nonexpendable resources.

(2) DA Form 759.

(a) OBSERVATION. A critical shortage of DA Form 759, part 1 and 2 exists at this time.

(b) EVALUATION. AR 95-64, dated 1 August 1968, requires all units to implement a new system of maintaining aviator individual flight records utilizing DA Form 759, part 1 and 2, dated 1 March 1968. At present these forms are not available for issue. Units are finding it necessary to modify the previous edition of Form 759 in an attempt to comply with AR 95-64, however, the modified form does not meet the requirements of the regulation. Other units are simply not complying with AR 95-64.

(c) RECOMMENDATION. That immediate steps be taken to issue units the necessary supply of DA Form 759, part 1 and 2.

c. (U) Training. None
d. (U) Intelligence. None
e. (C) Logistics.
CONFIDENTIAL

(1) OBSERVATION. Assault Support Helicopter Companies (TuE 1-253F), and Aviation Companies (Heavy Hel) (TuE 1-259G) are not authorized a Unit Property Book Officer (MOS 761A).

(2) EVALUATION. Units of the battalion not presently authorized a Property Book Officer encounter numerous problems in the complicated area of supply and property accountability. These units assign an officer or warrant officer with no supply training, the additional duty as Property Book Officer. This does not adequately compensate for the lack of well trained specialists in positions which are so critical to the successful accomplishment of the unit mission.

(3) RECOMMENDATION. That TuE 1-258F (Assault Support Helicopter Co), and TuE 1-259G (Aviation Co, Heavy Hel) be changed to add the authorization for one Property Book Officer (MOS 761A).

SUBJECT: Operational Report of 268th Combat Aviation Battalion for Period Ending 31 October 1966, AGC CSFOR-65 (HL) (U)

(c) CONCUR with RECOMMENDATION. This headquarters reviews records of all incoming personnel. The 268th Combat Aviation Battalion has received its pro rata share of experienced incoming personnel.

(2) Paragraph 2b(1), Aircraft and Crew Capabilities and Limitations, page 4: CONCUR. This headquarters is publishing an aviation orientation packet to aid in advising supported ground commanders.

(3) Paragraph 2b(2), DA Form 759, page 4: CONCUR. The 1st Aviation Brigade has been queried telephonically on the problem. Group units have sufficient stocks of DA Forms 759-1. No DA Forms 759 have been distributed to group units through the pinpoint system.

(4) Paragraph 2c, Logistics, page 5: CONCUR.

(a) Recommend no action on Assault Support Helicopter Company pending DA publication of standard MTOE.

(b) Since Heavy Helicopter Company will retain present TOE under DA standardized MTOE program, the unit has been advised to submit MTOE under the provisions of USARV Circular 310-44.

(c) Section 3, Headquarters, Department of the Army Survey Information. The 268th Combat Aviation Battalion had no input during the quarter for the DA survey on escape, evasion, and survival.

(C) This headquarters has evaluated subject report and indorsement and makes the following comments:

a. Reference paragraph 2a, section 2 (C), page 3, Personnel. Non-concur with basic document for reasons stated in the 1st Indorsement. The main reason for the personnel difficulties described in the basic document appears to be the lack of a good infusion program. Infusion of the unit is being studied by the 17th Aviation Group and monitored by this headquarters.

b. Reference paragraph 2b(1), section 2, page 4, Aircraft and Crew Capabilities and Limitations. Concur. Reference paragraph 2b(2) of 1st Indorsement, same subject as above, additional distribution should be made to aviation units of USARV pamphlet titled Handbook on CH-47 (Chinook). This pamphlet also includes data on the CH-54 helicopter.

1. (U) This headquarters has reviewed this report, considers it to be adequate, and concurs with the contents as indorsed.

2. (C) The following additional comments are considered pertinent:

   a. Paragraph 2a(1), page 3. The total strength of the 17th Group has improved during the period 1-25 November and it is anticipated that strength parity with other groups will be reached by 30 November. This headquarters will continue to allocate replacements in such a manner as to maintain parity of assigned strengths compared to authorized strengths by MOS among groups. The experience level of replacements is low throughout the command, but distribution of personnel assets is equitable as pertains to experience level.

   b. Paragraph 2b(1), page 4. USARV Regulation 95-26, published 10 November 1968, establishes a policy for indoctrination of commanders and Army aviators in aircraft operating procedures. Capabilities and limitations of aircraft and crews are specifically covered in subject areas for commanders' /advisors' aviation orientation.

   c. Paragraph 2b(2), page 4. DA Forms 759 and 759-1, dated 1 Mar 68, are not yet available through normal supply channels in USARV or the AG Publications Depot, Japan. As an interim measure, copies of the forms, less the interleaved carbon, have been reproduced and distributed by HQ, USARV. Recommend that necessary emphasis be placed on making these forms available through normal publications supply channels.

   d. Paragraph 2e, page 4. The standardized MTOE 1-258G for Assault Support Helicopter Companies was submitted to DA proposing a Unit Supply Technician, WO, MOS 761A. The approved MTOE 1-258G, implemented by USARPAC GO 771, dated 22 Nov 68, does not authorize the Unit Supply Tech-

1. This headquarters has evaluated subject report and forwarding indorsements and concur in the report as indorsed.

2. Reference 3d Indorsement, paragraph 2b: The ground commanders' lack of appreciation of the capabilities and limitations of supporting aircraft and crews is repeatedly expressed by aviation commands. Since the problem appears to be universal throughout the Army, CONUS branch schools and USACGSC should stress this subject.

3. Reference 4th Indorsement, paragraph 2: During the period 18 Sep 68 to 27 Dec 68 the Printing and Publications Center, Kawasaki, Japan, shipped to USARV a total of 6,900 pads consisting of 345,000 sets of DA Form 759. During the period 4 Sep 68 to 27 Dec 68, the center shipped 5,000 pads, consisting of 250,000 sets of DA Form 759-1. The current stock level of DA Form 759 is none, but the current stock level of DA Forms 759-1 is 3,027 pads or 151,350 sets. All due-outs for DA Form 759 established as of 23 Dec 68 have been released. However, subsequent requisitions received from USARV supply accounts exhausted stocks on hand and due-outs for DA Form 759 as of 27 Dec 68, totalled 287 pads.
