c. (C) Intelligence. Activity remained at a fairly low level throughout the Area of Operation during the reporting period. In the coastal areas, the pattern of enemy activity was characterized by a continuation of attacks by fire on isolated elements, sniper and booby-trap incidents, terrorism and other techniques to disrupt the SVN Pacification effort. These attacks follow the current pattern of enemy activity, attempting to inflict maximum casualties on friendly forces at the minimum risk to himself. Another noticeable trend in the Area was the increase in the number of aircraft receiving ground fire. Aircraft of the Battalion have received hostile fire thirty nine (39) times and hits twenty nine (29). The Battalion has been credited with 95 KBA.

d. (C) Operations.

(1) Units of the Battalion engaged in combat operations each of the 92 days of the report period. Two major combat air mobile assaults were conducted by the Battalion during this period as shown below:

(2) The Capitol ROK Infantry Division (CRID), 173d Airborne Brigade, and the 22nd Division (ARVN) continued to be the major units supported by the Battalion. The 4th Infantry Division has received substantial support from the CH-47, CH-54 and gunships of the 268th Avn Bn (Cbt). Numerous other support requirements were fulfilled on a mission basis.

(3) The 61st Aviation Company was redeployed on 7 July 1969, from LZ English to Lane AHP, An Son, RVN, by authority of the Commanding General IFFV, under Frag Order 47-69 dated 071330Z July 1969. Closing date was 14 July 1969 at Lane AHP. This redeployment reunited the company and has greatly increased the company’s availability due to consolidated maintenance.

(4) Operational results appear as Inclosure 2.

e. (C) Training.

(1) All units publish weekly training schedules and conduct mandatory training as required, with emphasis on aviation crew member standardization and safety (to include weapons). Training is integrated with operational requirements to the maximum degree possible.

(2) Instructor pilots conducted 90 day standardization flights as required. Aviator standardization in all units was evaluated and emphasized during safety and standardization meeting.

(3) During this report period the following school quotas were filled:

k. (U) Surgeon:

(3) Cpt Allan R. Katz is commander of the 546th Med Det.

(4) The 193rd Med Det was permanently moved from An Son to An Khe to support the 238th AC (AW) and other aviation elements located there.

2. (C) Section 2. Lessons Learned: Commander's Observations, Evaluation, and Recommendations.

a. (C) Personnel.

(1) Property Book Officer.

(a) Observation: Aviation companies should have a qualified non-rated property book officer.

(b) Evaluation: Experience in RVN has shown the need for a non-rated officer/warrant officer at the company level whose sole duty is unit property book officer. Rated aviators have little knowledge of property book procedures, especially those with little time in service. The importance of property book procedures and custodial care of unit property demands more emphasis than as a secondary duty to a rated aviator.

(c) Recommendation: That a qualified quartermaster warrant be assigned at company level as property book officer.
SUBJECT: Operational Report of 268th Aviation Battalion (Combat) for Period Ending 31 July 1969, RCS CSFOR-65 (HI) (U)

(d) Command action: Suggesting unit has submitted a revised MTO&E incorporating non-rated warrant as property book officer.

(2) TO&E Personnel Change.

(a) Observation: TO&E and MTO&E CH-47 Assault Support Helicopter Companies need a modified TO&E when changing aircraft models, i.e., A model to C model.

(b) Evaluation: Two engine repairmen cannot support the needs of a assault support helicopter company of CH-47 C models. This is due to the increased hot end inspection requirement. The requirement is moved from 600 hours (A model) to 150 hours (C model). Two repairmen cannot meet the increased work load.

(c) Recommendation: MTO&E should be modified as follows:
Delete: 1 Senior Powertrain repairman (68D20, E-5)
1 Powertrain repairman (68D20, E-4)
Add: 1 Senior engine repairman (68D20, E-5)
1 Engine repairman (68D20, E-4)

(d) Command Action: Suggesting unit is currently preparing MTO&E change.

b. (U) Operations: None.

c. (C) Training.

(1) Observation: Experienced aviators should be utilized to the greatest extent possible.

(2) Evaluation: In most assault helicopter companies, the experience level is low. The few second tour assigned aviators are in key positions within the units. This results in less experienced aviators performing the majority of the flight missions. In order to maintain high safety standards, close supervision and constant standardization is required. It has been this battalion's experience that graduates of the USAAVT instructor pilot course prove to be highly effective as instructor pilots and standardization instructor pilots.

(3) Recommendation: The USAAVT instructor pilot school program be expanded to provide more school trained instructor pilots for assault helicopter companies.

(4) Command Action: N/A

d. (U) Intelligence: None

e. (U) Logistics:
SUBJECT: Operational Report of 268th Aviation Battalion (Combat) for Period Ending 31 July 1969, RCS CSFUK-65 (RI) (U)

(1) Observation: Army aviators flying AH-1G aircraft in RVN require a defensive weapon.

(2) Evaluation: Experience indicates that Army aviators flying the AH-1G require a defensive weapon in addition to the standard issue .38 cal. revolver. The M-16A1 cannot be carried in the cockpit because of its length. Due to its compact size and proven efficiency, the CAR 15 could fulfill this requirement. This additional weapon is particularly needed because of the diminished crew of the AH-1G.

(3) Recommendation: Each pilot flying the AH-1G be issued CAR 15 as a defensive weapon.

(4) Command Action: The suggesting unit has submitted an MT&E incorporating this change.

f. Organization.

(1) Observation: A company size aviation unit cannot successfully maintain aircraft availability when separated from its 2nd echelon maintenance.

(2) Evaluation: A company that maintains aircraft at a forward base, away from its primary maintenance capability, must deal with additional problems not encountered by the consolidated unit. Normally the forward base is relatively insecure which also hinders availability because of enemy inflicted damage.

(3) Recommendation: Whenever the tactical situation permits, maintain only a skeleton force of aircraft at the forward base for security and Tactical Emergencies and retain the majority of the aircraft and personnel with the consolidated company.

(4) Command Action: Recommendation in (3) above was followed as the 61st AC (AH) was consolidated from LZ English to Lane AHP, 14 July 1969.

g. Other: None.

1. (U) This headquarters has reviewed the attached report, considers it to be adequate, and concurs with the contents as stated, except as indicated below.

2. (C) The following comments and recommendations are submitted:

a. Section 1, Operations: Significant Activities. None

b. Section 2, Lessons Learned: Commanders Observations, Evaluations, and Recommendations.

1) Paragraph 2a (1), Property Book Officer, Page 5: Concur. Qualified property book officers are needed at unit level. Command action taken is considered appropriate.

2) Paragraph 2a (2), TO&E Personnel Change, Page 6: Concur with recommendation. Command action considered appropriate.

3) Paragraph 2c, Training, Page 6: Concur. Repeated recommendations have been made for expansion of this program. Rather than delay training in anticipation of program expansion, this headquarters has instituted an extensive standardization program. It is envisioned that consistent extra effort by local standardization personnel will eventually alleviate the requirement for a large number of IP school quotas.

4) Paragraph 2e, Logistics, Page 6: Concur. These weapons were previously requested by another unit utilizing AH-1G helicopters. The USA RV G4 Section stated that the CAk-15 was an ENSUITE item, has been adopted as a standard item of equipment, and a RBOI has been developed. The USA RV G4 Section further advised that the weapon is not in production because of increased emphasis on production of the M-16 rifle. Command action is deemed appropriate.

5) Paragraph 4f, Organization, Page 7: Concur. Problems encountered when a unit is deployed to several locations are readily evident. Tactical necessity remains the governing factor and all...

2. (C) The following additional comment is considered pertinent:

Paragraph 2c(1), page 6, addresses the training of experienced aviators as instructor pilots. Nonconcur with the recommendation to expand the 1st Aviation Brigade Instructor Pilot School. (The Instructor Pilot School is conducted by the 1st Aviation Brigade rather than USARV.) The mission of the Instructor Pilot School is to train highly qualified aviators as instructor pilots capable of training other instructor pilots for their respective units within the 1st Aviation Brigade. Due to the lack of training facilities, equipment and personnel, the expansion of the school is not feasible. Eighty-two percent of all Assault Helicopter Companies assigned to the 1st Aviation Brigade have graduates of this school. The 260th Aviation Battalion (Combat), with three Assault Helicopter Companies, has five graduates. The number of school trained personnel assigned to the 260th Aviation Battalion (Combat) is considered adequate to train other instructor pilots for the battalion.
