"Command and leadership are two quite different functions, yet they are inextricably interrelated—each supplementing and strengthening the other. I think of them as Siamese twins, each essential to the life of the other, joined at the head and heart—with the head symbolizing command and the heart denoting leadership."

SENIOR LEVEL LEADERSHIP AND COMMAND: A SELECTED BIBLIOGRAPHY, now in its third edition, includes most of the citations from the earlier editions as well as many other notable materials that were added to the US Army War College Library collection since 1987. Like the earlier bibliographies, this version lists references to resources which treat the specifics of senior level military leadership and command as well as selected materials which address leadership knowledge and competence applicable to other executive areas.

It has been tailored to include only those materials readily available in the US Army War College (USAWC) Library collection. For your convenience, we have added USAWC library call numbers at the end of each book entry (keep in mind that call numbers vary from library to library).
