PHILOSOPHY OF A SLAVE
(Attack on Tito)

- Communist China -

DISTRIBUTION STATEMENT A
Approved for Public Release
Distribution Unlimited

Reproduced From
Best Available Copy

This material, translated under U.S. Government auspices, is distributed for scholarly analysis to a pository licensed under a print subscription to the Joint Committee on Contemporary China of the American Council of Learned Societies and the Social Science Research Council.

Queries regarding publication in this series should be addressed to the Social Science Research Council, 1216 Park Avenue, New York 17,
New York 16.

U.S. JOINT PUBLICATIONS RESEARCH SERVICE
205 EAST 42ND STREET, SUITE 300
NEW YORK 17, N. Y.
Subscribing Repositories

University of British Columbia
Vancouver 8, Canada

Center for Chinese Studies
University of California
Berkeley 4, California

University of California Library
Berkeley 4, California

University of Chicago Library
Chicago 37, Illinois

Librarian, East Asiatic Library
Columbia University
New York 27, New York

Council on Foreign Relations
58 East 68th Street
New York 21, New York

Duke University Library
Durham, North Carolina

The Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy
Tufts University
Medford, Massachusetts

Harvard College Library
Cambridge 38, Massachusetts

Center for East Asian Studies
Harvard University
16 Dunster Street
Cambridge 38, Massachusetts

Harvard-Yenching Institute
Cambridge 38, Massachusetts

University of Hawaii
Honolulu 14, Hawaii

The Hoover Institution
Stanford, California

University of Illinois Library
Urbana, Illinois

Indiana University Library
Bloomington, Indiana

State University of Iowa Library
Iowa City, Iowa

Institute for Asian Studies
Marquette University
Milwaukee 3, Wisconsin

University of Michigan Library
Ann Arbor, Michigan

Michigan State University Lib.
East Lansing, Michigan

University of Minnesota Library
Minneapolis 14, Minnesota

Ohio State University Libraries
1858 Neil Avenue
Columbus 10, Ohio

University of Oregon Library
Eugene, Oregon

University of Pittsburgh Lib.
Pittsburgh 13, Pennsylvania

Princeton University Library
Princeton, New Jersey

University of Rochester
Rochester 20, New York

Institute of Asian Studies
St. John's University
Graduate School
Jamaica 32, New York

McKissick Memorial Library
University of South Carolina
Columbia 1, South Carolina

University of Southern Calif.
Library
Los Angeles 7, California

University of Texas Library
Austin 12, Texas

Alderman Library
University of Virginia
Charlottesville, Virginia

Far Eastern Library
University of Washington
Seattle 5, Washington

Yale University Library
New Haven, Connecticut
A slave is always loyal to his master. If the master were to die, the slave would mourn. And when the master is sick, even his dog will cry in sorrow. Recently, when American imperialism was uncovered before the people of the world, the Tito bloc of Yugoslavia naturally mourned and cried.

But while Tito and his like mourned for their master's misfortune, they acted hypocritically as champions of justice. They said such things as "Than an American airplane flew over Soviet territory (attention: they didn't say 'violated' but 'flew') is not a major incident at the present time." This incident "should not" become "a pretext for a dispute of such magnitude"! Tito himself even shamelessly declared: "We who did not take part in the conference should not be just an onlooker in the cold war."

According to Tito, the American airplane's violation of Soviet territory was not "a major incident" but a small thing. If such reasoning is correct, then the people of the world aren't obliged to condemn the American bandit. If that were so, then American imperialists would escape safely under the cover of Tito! What a hypocrite! What a man, to dare to advocate that "we should not be just an onlooker in the cold war"! I bet the Tito clique trying to play a trick in order to turn attention away from their American master and help their master escape the just sentence of the people of the world.

And on the other hand, if the American violation of Soviet air space was not "a major incident," then the Soviet condemnation of the American bandit was only making a big thing out of nothing, which shouldn't be done. If the American airplane's violation of Soviet air space "should not" become "a pretext for a dispute of such magnitude," then the Soviet insistence on protecting its sovereignty, and the Soviet demand for apology from the American bandit, were also in the wrong. If these are so, then is it not true that the responsibility for breaking up the summit conference and increasing international tension would rest on the shoulders of the Soviet Union! What a hypocrite is this champion of justice! What a man, to dare to advocate that he "should not be just an onlooker in the cold war"! The truth is that Tito was playing tricks, trying to shift the blame to the Soviet Union and make the American bandit an innocent victim.

But all this is fruitless. Even so, Tito babbled on: "We hope that responsible statesmen ... will recognize that saving face (Note: actually it is not "face" but sovereignty) should not be the most important thing." Truly, such words could issue only from the heart of a slave; because, from the point of view of a slave, since even his "soul" has already been sold, what does "face" matter as long as you give him money: "I take money from thee, I shall serve thee." Is it not true that the Tito clique received a loan of fifty-one million, five hundred thousand dollars from their American master last year and are they not therefore eager to bark for their master?

The American master's open provocation is truly malicious, but the slave's shooting an arrow in the dark is also very hateful!
FOR REASONS OF SPEED AND ECONOMY
THIS REPORT HAS BEEN REPRODUCED
ELECTRONICALLY DIRECTLY FROM OUR CONTRACTOR'S TYPESCRIPT

THIS PUBLICATION WAS PREPARED UNDER CONTRACT TO THE UNITED STATES JOINT PUBLICATIONS RESEARCH SERVICE
A FEDERAL GOVERNMENT ORGANIZATION ESTABLISHED
TO SERVICE THE TRANSLATION AND RESEARCH NEEDS
OF THE VARIOUS GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENTS