In addition to the above prototype builds, the following activities have taken place throughout the year:

- Presented lab capabilities at AMC Rapid Prototyping and Tooling Seminar at Redstone Arsenal on October 28, 1999.
- Conducted several tours throughout the year to market the lab capabilities to potential customers.
- Maintained a database of parts built in the lab throughout the year.
- Initiated plans for an intense marketing effort to increase the activity in the lab.
- Investigated the feasibility of installing Archimedes on the Silicon Graphics computer to assist with production and assembly analysis of systems.
