History. This printing publishes a revision of this publication. Because the publication has been extensively revised, the changed portions have not been highlighted.

Summary. This regulation covers the policy, major functions, and organization of the National Guard Bureau as a Joint Bureau of the Department of the Army and the Department of the Air Force. It updates the 1977 edition by incorporating the changes to the organization and functions of the National Guard Bureau as set forth in the new sections 10501 through 10507, chapter 1011, title 10, United States Code (10 USC 10501–10507). The National Guard Bureau Charter prescribes the duties and responsibilities of the National Guard Bureau.

Applicability. This regulation applies to the Active Army, the Army National Guard, the Department of the Air Force, and the Air National Guard.

Proponent and exception authority. The proponent of this regulation is the Chief, National Guard Bureau. The Chief, National Guard Bureau has the authority to approve exceptions to this regulation that are consistent with controlling law and regulations. The Chief, National Guard Bureau may delegate this approval authority in writing to a division chief within the proponent agency in the grade of colonel or civilian equivalent. The reporting requirements in this publication are exempt from licensing in accordance with paragraph 2.11.12 of Air Force Instruction 33–324.

Army management control process. This regulation contains management control provisions, but it does not identify key management controls that must be evaluated.

Supplementation. Supplementation of this regulation and establishment of command and local forms are prohibited without prior approval from the National Guard Bureau. ATTN: NGB–JA, Arlington, VA 22202–3231.

Suggested Improvements. Users are invited to send comments and suggested improvements on DA Form 2028 (Recommended Changes to Publications and Blank Forms) directly to the National Guard Bureau. ATTN: NGB–SDP, Arlington, VA 22202–3231.

Distribution. This publication is available in electronic media only and is intended for command levels D and E for the Active Army, the Army National Guard, and the U.S. Army Reserve. Air Force distribution: F.

Introduction

Section I
General

1–1. Purpose
This regulation prescribes the major functions and organization of the National Guard Bureau as a Joint Bureau of the Department of the Army and the Department of the Air Force.

1–2. References
Required and related publications and prescribed and referenced forms are listed in appendix A.

1–3. Explanation of abbreviations and terms
Abbreviations and special terms used in this regulation are explained in the glossary.

Section II
Responsibilities

1–4. Chief, National Guard Bureau
The Chief, National Guard Bureau will—

a. Serve as the principal adviser to the Secretary of the Army and the Chief of Staff of the Army and the Secretary of the Air Force and the Chief of Staff of the Air Force on matters relating to the National Guard, the Army National Guard of the United States, and the Air National Guard of the United States.

b. Establish State military headquarters in the 50 States, Guam, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands; plan for and conduct operations in support of civil defense; and utilize the State adjutants general and their State headquarters.

c. Be the “responsible department official” who implements title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, and DOD Directive 5500.11, as it applies to the Army and Air National Guard (NEG 600–23/ANGR 30–12).

d. Administer the National Guard technician program, as redelegated by the Secretaries of the Army and Air Force, in a manner consistent with approved policies, directives, regulations, and publications of the Army and Air Force (AR 570–4, AR 135–2, Department of the Army General Order 85, 1968, and AFI 36–103).

e. Implement the Small Business Program in the National Guard Bureau (DODD 4205.1).

f. Submit to the Secretary of Defense, through the Secretaries of the Army and the Air Force, an annual report on the state of the National Guard and the ability of the National Guard to meet its missions. The report will be prepared in conjunction with the Secretary of the Army and the Secretary of the Air Force and may be submitted in classified and unclassified versions.

1–5. Legal basis
Under the provisions of section 10501, title 10, United States Code (10 USC 10501), the National Guard Bureau—

a. Is established in the Department of Defense as a Joint Bureau of the Department of the Army and the Department of the Air Force.

b. Is the channel of communication between the Departments of the Army and the Air Force and the several states on all matters pertaining to the National Guard, the Army National Guard of the United States, and the Air National Guard of the United States.

1–6. Special relationships

a. States. The Army National Guard of the United States and the Air National Guard of the United States are reserve components of the Army and the Air Force, respectively. Members of the Army National Guard of the United States and of the Air National Guard of the United States are not in active Federal service except when ordered thereto in accordance with law, or called into active Federal service in their status as members of the National Guard. When not in active Federal service, such members are administered, armed, equipped, and trained in their status as members of the Army National Guard and the Air National Guard of the several states (sections 10107 and 10113, title 10, United States Code (10 USC 10107, 10113)).

b. Command jurisdiction.

(1) The Governor of each State, Guam, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands is the Commander in Chief of all Army and Air National Guard units not in active Federal service within his or her jurisdiction. Command is normally exercised by an adjutant general or other designated military official of the State, Guam, Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands.

(2) The President of the United States is the Commander in Chief of the National Guard of the District of Columbia.
Command is exercised through the Secretary of Defense and the Commanding General of the District of Columbia National Guard, as provided in Executive Order No. 11485, 1 October 1969 (34 FR 15411). The Secretary of Defense has delegated his command authority to the Secretary of the Army with respect to the District of Columbia Army National Guard and to the Secretary of the Air Force with respect to the District of Columbia Air National Guard by a memorandum dated 10 October 1996.

1–7. History of the National Guard Bureau
The Constitution and Bill of Rights made specific provision for continuing a militia as a military force. Following the establishment of the Federal Government in 1792, the militia remained under complete control of the States until congressional enactment of the Dick Military Act in 1903, which made the Federal Government responsible for their training, equipment, and pay. The administrative burden placed upon the War Department by that legislation led to the creation of a type of bureau agency to administer militia affairs. With the support thus provided, the militia developed into sufficiently well-organized and uniformly trained units to permit, under the National Defense Act of 1916, as amended, the necessary alignment with the Regular Army and Federal recognition of the militia of individual states as a composite National Guard. During 1916, the antecedent unit of the present-day Air National Guard was formed. Its separate status as a component was later brought about by the National Security Act of 1947. With the creation of the separate components, the National Guard Bureau continued as a Bureau of the Department of the Army, and it became an agency of the Department of the Air Force to perform similar functions and duties for that Department. The Department of the Army Reorganization Act of 1958 designated the National Guard Bureau as a Joint Bureau of the Department of the Army and the Air Force. The Reserve Officers Personnel Management Act (the Act), dated 5 October 1994, reaffirmed that there is in the Department of Defense the National Guard Bureau, which is a Joint Bureau of the Department of the Army and the Department of the Air Force, and directed that the Secretaries of the Army and the Air Force jointly develop and prescribe a charter for the National Guard Bureau covering the matters set forth in the Act. (See fig 1–1.)
1 September 1995

Pursuant to the requirements of Section 10503, Title 10, United States Code, the Secretary of the Army and the Secretary of the Air Force have jointly developed and do hereby prescribe the following Charter for the National Guard Bureau:

NATIONAL GUARD BUREAU
CHARTER

Subject to the authority, direction, and control of the Secretary of the Army and the Secretary of the Air Force, subject to sections 3013 and 8013 of Title 10, United States Code, and consistent with approved policies, directives, regulations, and publications of the Army and the Air Force, and subject to inspections in accordance with Section 105 of Title 32, United States Code, the Chief of the National Guard Bureau is responsible for the following functions:

(1) Implementing Departmental guidance on allocation of unit structure, strength authorizations, and other resources to the Army National Guard of the United States and the Air National Guard of the United States.

(2) Prescribing the training discipline and training requirements for the Army National Guard and the Air National Guard and the allocation of Federal funds for the training of the Army National Guard and the Air National Guard.

(3) Ensuring that units and members of the Army National Guard and the Air National Guard are trained by the States in accordance with approved programs and policies of, and guidance from, the Secretary of the Army, the Secretary of the Air Force, and the respective Service Chiefs of Staff.

(4) Monitoring and assisting the States in the organization, maintenance, and operation of National Guard units so as to provide well-trained and well-equipped units capable of augmenting the active forces in time of war or national emergency.

(5) Planning and administering the budgets for the Army National Guard of the United States and the Air National Guard of the United States.

(6) Supervising the acquisition and supply of, and accountability of the States for, Federal property issued to the National Guard through the property and fiscal officers designated, detailed, or appointed under section 708 of Title 32, United States Code.

(7) Granting and withdrawing, in accordance with applicable laws and regulations, Federal recognition of (A) National Guard units, and (B) officers of the National Guard.

(8) Coordinating departmental policies and programs for the employment and use of National Guard technicians under section 709 of Title 32, United States Code.

(9) Supervising and administering the Active Guard and Reserve program as it pertains to the National Guard in accordance with priorities established by the Secretary of the Army and the Secretary of the Air Force.

(10) Issuing, with the coordination and approval of the service concerned, directives, regulations, and publications consistent with approved policies of the Army and Air Force, as appropriate.

(11) Facilitating and supporting the training of members and units of the National Guard to meet State requirements.

(12) Facilitating and coordinating with the Departments of the Army and the Air Force the use of National Guard personnel and resources for contingency operations, Military Operations Other Than War, natural disasters, Military Support to Civil Authorities, and special events.

(13) Ensuring that appointments of all officials and personnel of the National Guard Bureau comply with all applicable Department of the Army and Department of the Air Force personnel and manpower rules and regulations.

(14) Ensuring that, in the performance of their duties, all officials and personnel of the National Guard Bureau comply fully with applicable Department of the Army and Department of the Air Force policies, directives, publications and legal opinions.

(15) Implementing, with the Chief of the National Guard Bureau as the Responsible Department Official, Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and DOD Directive 5500.11, Nondiscrimination in Federally Assisted Programs, as they apply to the Army and Air National Guard.

(16) Such other functions as the Secretaries may prescribe.

Chapter 2
National Guard Bureau Mission and Charter

2–1. Mission
The mission of the National Guard Bureau is to—

a. Participate with the Army and the Air Force staffs in the formulation, development, and coordination of all programs, policies, concepts, and plans pertaining to or affecting the National Guard, the Army National Guard of the United States, and the Air National Guard of the United States.

b. Develop and administer such detailed operating programs as are required for the operation of the Army National Guard and the Air National Guard, based on approved programs, policies, and guidance from the Department of the Army and the Department of the Air Force.

c. Participate with and assist the several states in the organization, maintenance, and operation of their National Guard units so as to provide trained and equipped units capable of immediate expansion to war strength, and available for service in time of war or emergency to augment the Active Army and Air Force.

2–2. National Guard Bureau Charter
Section 10503, chapter 1011, title 10, United States Code (10 USC 10503), directed the Secretary of the Army and the Secretary of the Air Force to develop a charter for the National Guard Bureau. This has been accomplished with the cooperation and assistance of the National Guard Bureau and the Army and Air staffs. The charter, which prescribes the duties and responsibilities of the National Guard Bureau, is at figure 1–1 and is a part of this regulation.

2–3. Governing regulations when not in active Federal service

a. Army regulations and Air Force instructions. Army regulations and Air Force instructions govern the National Guard not in the active Federal service in the same manner as they do the regular components, when such regulations or instructions have been made applicable to the National Guard. Specific applicability is indicated in departmental regulations and instructions.

b. Army National Guard regulations and Air National Guard instructions. Army National Guard regulations will be based on Army policies fully coordinated with HQDA, approved by the Chief of Staff, United States Army, and issued by order of the Secretary of the Army. Air National Guard instructions will be issued subject to the approval of the Chief of Staff, United States Air Force, and issued by order of the Secretary of the Air Force. These regulations or instructions are binding on the National Guard and on all agents of the Active Army and Active Air Force in the same manner as Army regulations and Air Force instructions. Joint Regulations may be issued when the subject matter is applicable to both the Army and Air National Guard, with the approval of both the Department of the Army and the Department of the Air Force.

c. Other National Guard publications. The Chief, National Guard Bureau will issue such other publications as necessary, provided that such publications are consistent with approved policies of the Secretary and Chief of Staff of the Department concerned. Such publications may cover areas of operation not fully clarified or detailed in departmental publications. They will be binding only upon the Army or Air National Guard, as appropriate.

d. Comparative status of National Guard and Air National Guard regulations and Army and Air Force regulations. National Guard and Air National Guard regulations are issued by the authority of the Secretary of the Army and Secretary of the Air Force, and they therefore carry the same force and effect as Army and Air Force regulations.

2–4. Legal opinions
The legal opinions rendered by the Office of the General Counsel, Department of Defense; Office of the General Counsel, Army; Office of the General Counsel, Air Force; Office of the Judge Advocate General, Army; and the Office of the Judge Advocate General, Air Force are applicable to and binding upon the National Guard Bureau and the Army and Air National Guard of the United States to the same extent as those legal opinions are binding upon the Department of Defense, Department of the Army, and Department of the Air Force.

Chapter 3
Organization

3–1. General
The organization of the National Guard Bureau includes the offices of the Chief, National Guard Bureau; Director, Army National Guard; Director, Air National Guard; Chief Counsel; Comptroller; Inspector General; and such other subordinate offices and operating divisions as required to discharge the responsibilities of the National Guard Bureau of the Department of the Army and the Department of the Air Force.

3–2. Major organizational elements

a. Office of the Chief, National Guard Bureau is composed of the Chief, National Guard Bureau; Vice-Chief, National Guard Bureau; Chief of Staff; Executive Office; United States Property and Fiscal Officers; and such separate offices as are required by the Chief, National Guard Bureau.

b. Office of the Director, Army National Guard is composed of the Director, Army National Guard; Deputy Director, Army National Guard; Executive Office; and such operating divisions as may be prescribed by the Chief, National Guard Bureau for those matters pertaining to the Army National Guard and the Army National Guard of the United States.

c. Office of the Director, Air National Guard is composed of the Director, Air National Guard; Deputy Director, Air National Guard; Executive Office; and such operating divisions as may be prescribed by the Chief, National Guard Bureau for those matters pertaining to the Air National Guard and the Air National Guard of the United States.

d. Office of the Chief Counsel, National Guard Bureau is composed of the Chief Counsel and such additional staff as may be needed to provide legal support to the Chief, National Guard Bureau, other National Guard Bureau offices, the Adjutants General, and the United States Property and Fiscal Officers.

e. Office of the Comptroller, National Guard Bureau is composed of the Comptroller and such additional staff as may be prescribed by the Chief, National Guard Bureau.

f. Office of the Inspector General is composed of the Inspector General and such other staff as may be required to perform the Inspector General functions of the National Guard Bureau.

Chapter 4
Appointments and Duties

4–1. Appointment of Chief, National Guard Bureau

a. How appointed. The President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, appoints the Chief of the National Guard Bureau from officers of the Army National Guard of the United States and the Air National Guard of the United States who—

(1) Are recommended for such appointment by their respective Governors or, in the case of the District of Columbia, by the commanding general of the District of Columbia National Guard.

(2) Have had at least 10 years of federally recognized commissioned service in an active status in the National Guard.

(3) Are in a grade above the grade of brigadier general.

b. Term of office. An officer appointed as Chief of the National Guard Bureau serves at the pleasure of the President for a term of 4 years. An officer may not hold the office of chief after becoming 64 years of age. An officer may be reappointed as Chief of the National Guard Bureau. While holding the office, the Chief of the National Guard Bureau may not be removed from the reserve active status list, or from an active status under any provision of law that otherwise would require such removal due to completion of a specified number of years of service or a specified number of years of service in grade.

c. Duties. The Chief of the National Guard Bureau is the principal adviser to the Secretary of the Army, the Chief of Staff of the Army, the Secretary of the Air Force, and the Chief of Staff of the Air Force on matters relating to the National Guard, the Army National Guard of the United States, and the Air National Guard of the United States. He or she ensures that the National Guard Bureau performs those functions contained in the National Guard Bureau charter, as more specifically defined in this regulation, or such other functions as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Army or the Secretary of the Air Force.

d. Grade. The Chief of the National Guard Bureau will be appointed to serve in the grade of lieutenant general.

4–2. Appointment of Vice Chief, National Guard Bureau

a. How appointed. The Vice Chief, National Guard Bureau, is selected by the Secretary of Defense from officers of the Army National Guard of the United States or the Air National Guard of the United States who—

(1) Are recommended for such appointment by their respective Governors or, in the case of the District of Columbia, the commanding general of the District of Columbia National Guard.

(2) Have had at least 10 years of federally recognized commissioned service in an active status in the National Guard.

(3) Are in a grade above the grade of colonel.

b. Term of office. An officer appointed as Vice Chief of the National Guard Bureau serves for a term of 4 years, but he or she may be removed from office at any time for cause. The Chief and Vice Chief of the National Guard Bureau may not both be members of the Army or of the Air Force. The term of the Vice Chief of the National Guard Bureau will end upon the appointment of a Chief of the National Guard Bureau who is a member of the same armed force as the Vice Chief. However, the Secretary of Defense may waive the restrictions for a limited period of time to provide for the orderly transition of officers to serve in the positions of Chief and Vice Chief of the National Guard Bureau.

c. Duties. The Vice Chief of the National Guard Bureau performs such duties as may be prescribed by the Chief of the National Guard Bureau.

d. Grade. The Vice Chief of the National Guard Bureau will be appointed to serve in the grade of major general.

e. Functions as Acting Chief. When there is a vacancy in the office of the Chief of the National Guard Bureau or in the absence or disability of the Chief, the Vice Chief of the National Guard Bureau acts as Chief and performs the duties of the Chief until a successor is appointed or the absence or disability ceases.

4–3. Succession

When there is a vacancy in the offices of both Chief and Vice Chief of the National Guard Bureau or in the absence or disability of both the Chief and Vice Chief of the National Guard Bureau, or when there is a vacancy in one such office and in the absence or disability of the officer holding the other, the senior officer of the Army National Guard of the United States or the Air National Guard of the United States on duty with the National Guard Bureau shall perform the duties of the Chief until a successor to the Chief or Vice Chief is appointed or the absence or disability of the Chief or Vice Chief ceases, as the case may be.

4–4. Appointment of Director, Army National Guard

a. How appointed. The President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall appoint the Director, Army National Guard from general officers of the active Army National Guard of the United States nominated by their respective Governors or, in the case of the District of Columbia, the commanding general of the District of Columbia National Guard. The Secretary of Defense may not recommend an officer to the President for appointment as Director, Army National Guard unless the officer—

(1) Is recommended by the Secretary of the Army.

(2) Is determined by the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff to have significant joint duty experience. Until 1 October 2003, the Secretary of Defense may waive this requirement if the Secretary of the Army requests the waiver, and, in the judgment of the Secretary of Defense, the officer is qualified for service in the position and the waiver is necessary for the good of the service.

b. Term of office. The Director, Army National Guard will be appointed for a period of 4 years, but he or she may be removed for cause at any time. The officer serving as Director may be reappointed for one additional 4-year period.

c. Grade. The Director, Army National Guard will serve in the grade of lieutenant general.

d. Duties. The Director, Army National Guard, under the supervision and control of the Chief, National Guard Bureau, performs those administrative and operational functions of the Chief pertaining to the Army National Guard and the Army National Guard of the United States. The organization of the office of Director, Army National Guard and the operating divisions thereunder, with specific functions and responsibilities, will be as prescribed by the Chief, National Guard Bureau.

e. Succession. In the event the office of the Director, Army National Guard becomes vacant, or the incumbent, because of disability, is unable to discharge the responsibilities and duties thereof, the Deputy Director, Army National Guard will act as Director, Army National Guard until the disability ceases or a successor is appointed.

4–5. Appointment of Deputy Director, Army National Guard

a. How appointed. The Secretary of the Army will appoint the Deputy Director, Army National Guard from officers of the active Army National Guard of the United States who—

(1) Have been recommended by their respective Governors or, in the case of the District of Columbia, the Commanding General of the District of Columbia National Guard.

(2) Have had at least 10 years of federally recognized commissioned service in the active Army National Guard of the United States immediately preceding their appointment.

b. Term of office. The Deputy Director, Army National Guard will be appointed for a term not to exceed 4 years. He or she may serve consecutive terms.

c. Grade. The Deputy Director, Army National Guard will serve in the grade of brigadier general.

d. Duties. The Deputy Director, Army National Guard is the principal assistant to the Director, Army National Guard and performs such duties and functions as may be prescribed by the Director, Army National Guard.

e. Succession. In the event the office of the Deputy Director, Army National Guard becomes vacant, or the incumbent, because of disability, is unable to discharge the responsibilities and duties thereof, the next senior officer of the Army National Guard assigned to the National Guard Bureau will act as Deputy Director, Army National Guard unless otherwise directed by the Chief, National Guard Bureau.
4–6. Appointment of Director, Air National Guard

a. How appointed. The President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall appoint the Director, Air National Guard from rated general officers of the active Air National Guard of the United States nominated by their respective Governors or, in the case of the District of Columbia, the commanding general of the District of Columbia National Guard. The Secretary of Defense may not recommend an officer to the President for appointment as Director, Air National Guard, unless the officer—

1. Is recommended by the Secretary of the Air Force.

2. Is determined by the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff to have significant joint duty experience. Until 1 October 2003, the Secretary of Defense may waive this requirement if the Secretary of the Air Force requests the waiver, and, in the judgment of the Secretary of Defense, the officer is qualified for service in the position and the waiver is necessary for the good of the service.

b. Term of office. The Director, Air National Guard will be appointed for a period of 4 years, but he or she may be removed for cause at any time. The officer may be reappointed for one additional 4-year period.

c. Grade. The Director, Air National Guard will serve in the grade of lieutenant general.

d. Duties. The Director, Air National Guard, under the supervision and control of the Chief, National Guard Bureau, performs those administrative and operational functions of the Chief pertaining to the Air National Guard and the Air National Guard of the United States. The organization of the office of Director, Air National Guard and the operating divisions thereunder, with specific functions and responsibilities, will be as prescribed by the Chief, National Guard Bureau.

e. Succession. In the event the office of the Director, Air National Guard becomes vacant, or the incumbent, because of disability, is unable to discharge the responsibilities and the duties thereof, the Deputy Director, Air National Guard will act as Director, Air National Guard until the disability ceases or a successor is appointed.

4–7. Appointment of Deputy Director, Air National Guard

a. How appointed. The Secretary of the Air Force will appoint the Deputy Director, Air National Guard from rated officers of the active Air National Guard of the United States who—

1. Have been recommended by their respective Governors, or, in the case of the District of Columbia, the Commanding General of the District of Columbia National Guard.

2. Have had at least 10 years of federally recognized commissioned service in the active Air National Guard of the United States immediately preceding the appointment.

b. Term of office. The Deputy Director, Air National Guard will be appointed for a term not to exceed 4 years. He or she may serve consecutive terms.

c. Grade. The Deputy Director, Air National Guard will serve in the grade of brigadier general.

d. Duties. The Deputy Director, Air National Guard is the principal assistant to the Director, Air National Guard, and he or she performs such duties and functions as may be prescribed by the Director, Air National Guard.

e. Succession. In the event the office of the Deputy Director, Air National Guard becomes vacant, or the incumbent, because of disability, is unable to discharge the responsibilities and duties thereof, the next senior officer of the Air National Guard assigned to the National Guard Bureau will act as Deputy Director, Air National Guard unless otherwise directed by the Chief, National Guard Bureau.

4–8. Other statutory officers

In addition to the above officers, the National Guard Bureau will have a legal counsel, a comptroller, and an inspector general. Appointment of these officers will be by the Chief, National Guard Bureau. Such appointments will comply with all applicable departmental personnel and manpower rules, regulations, and policies. Officers appointed will perform such duties as the Chief may prescribe.
