Standard Form 298 (Rev. 8-98)
Prescribed by ANSI Std Z39-18
Summary

The war with Iraq (Operation Iraqi Freedom), which began on March 19, 2003, to overthrow Saddam Hussein and change the regime was accomplished when the Iraqi regime fell on April 9, 2003. On June 28, 2004, the U.S.-led coalition transferred full sovereignty to the Iraqi interim government, and the Iraqi government is now running the day-to-day operations of the country.

During the past year, elections were held in Iraq for a transitional National Assembly on January 30, 2005, and a permanent constitution was adopted on October 15, 2005. On December 15, 2005, elections were held for a permanent (four year) national assembly. Prime Minister Nouri al-Maliki named and won approval of a 39-member cabinet on May 20, 2006.

This report provides an annotated list of U.N. agencies that are involved in Iraq, key U.S. government agencies, and a sample list of major international and U.S.-based aid organizations that are providing humanitarian assistance to Iraq. Internet links to the U.N. agencies and humanitarian aid organizations are also provided. For detailed discussion on humanitarian and reconstruction assistance in Iraq, see CRS Report RL31833, Iraq: Recent Developments in Reconstruction Assistance, by Curt Tarnoff. This report will be updated as events warrant.

Iraq: United Nations and Humanitarian Aid Organizations

Introduction

The war with Iraq (Operation Iraqi Freedom), which began on March 19, 2003, to overthrow Saddam Hussein and change the regime was accomplished when the Iraqi regime fell on April 9, 2003. However, coalition forces continue to combat insurgents and are currently attempting to stabilize the security situation in Iraq.1

On June 28, 2004, Ambassador L. Paul Bremer, who was the chief civil administrator in Iraq and head of the Coalition Provisional Authority (CPA), handed over the appropriate legal documents transferring full sovereignty to the interim government of Iraq. The transfer of power was sanctioned under United Nations Security Council Resolution 1546,2 which approved U.S. and British plans to hand over power to Iraq on June 30, 2004. The CPA no longer exists, and the Iraqi government is now running the day-to-day operations of its country.3

On January 30, 2005, elections were held in Iraq for a transitional National Assembly; a permanent constitution was adopted on October 15, 2005. On December 15, 2005, elections were held for a permanent (four year) national assembly. Prime Minister designate Nouri al-Maliki named and won approval of a 39-member cabinet on May 20, 2006.4 Currently, the main focus is to stabilize the security situation, assist in reconstruction efforts, and coordinate and provide humanitarian assistance to the Iraqi people.

This report provides an annotated list of U.N. agencies involved in Iraq, key U.S. government agencies, and a sample list of major international and U.S.-based aid organizations that are providing humanitarian assistance to Iraq.

U.N. Agencies Currently Involved in Iraq

Following is a list of U.N. agencies currently providing humanitarian assistance to Iraq. Internet addresses of the U.N. agencies as well as links to their websites on Iraq (if available) are provided.

The U.N. Assistance Mission for Iraq (UNAMI)
[http://www.uniraq.org/]

The UNAMI was mandated by the U.N. Security Council Resolution 1505 on August 14, 2003, as a mission to oversee the U.N. Oil for Food program handover on November 21, 2003. Currently, this mission will help direct the United Nations’ future role and the various humanitarian and reconstruction programs in Iraq, and this site is a Web portal for U.N. agencies and NGOs working in Iraq.

U.N. E-MINE Electronic Mine Information Network — Iraq Update
[http://www.mineaction.org/country.asp?c=14]

Following the invasion in 2003, a National Mine Action Authority (NMAA) was established in Baghdad, with Regional Mine Action Centers (RMAC) in Erbil in the north and in Basra in the south. Landmine Monitor reports, Mine Action projects and related documents concerning Iraq are available at this site.

UNICEF Programs in South and Central Iraq
[http://www.unicef.org/emerg/iraq/index.html]

UNICEF (United Nations Children’s Fund) [http://www.unicef.org/] is an advocate for the protection of children’s rights and is tasked to help children living in poverty, reduce childhood death and illness in developing countries, and protect children in the midst of war and natural disasters.

U.N. Development Programme (UNDP) in Iraq
[http://www.iq.undp.org/]

UNDP [http://www.undp.org/] is the United Nations’ global development network, helping countries build solutions to the challenges of democratic governance, poverty reduction, crisis prevention and recovery, energy and environment, information and communications technology, and HIV/AIDS. The United Nations Development Programme has been present in Iraq since 1976.

UNDP’s Electricity Network Rehabilitation Programme (ENRP) in Northern Iraq
[http://www.enrp.undp.org/]

The ENRP’s overall objectives are primarily the rehabilitation, installation, and development of the electricity network in the three northern governorates of Dohuk, Erbil, and Suleimaniyah in Iraq.

World Food Programme (WFP) Country Involvement — Iraq
[http://www.wfp.org/country_brief/indexcountry.asp?country=368]

5 For full text, see [http://www.un.org/Docs/sc/unsc_resolutions03.html].
The WFP [http://www.wfp.org/] was set up in 1963 and is the U.N. agency that combats global hunger and supports economic and social development in countries of need.

World Health Organization (WHO) Iraq Country Page
[http://www.who.int/country/irq/en/]
WHO [http://www.who.int/en/] is the United Nations’ specialized agency for health.

Other U.N. Agencies — Iraq

Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs (OCHA)
[http://ochaonline.un.org/]
The OCHA works with governments, nongovernmental organizations (NGOs), U.N. agencies and individuals, and helps them mobilize and coordinate their efforts in responding to disasters, emergencies or a humanitarian crisis around the world.

U.N. Environment Programme (UNEP)
[http://www.unep.org/]
The UNEP works to promote the future of the earth’s environment. Its activities cover a wide range of environmental issues, including the promotion of environmental science and information and dealing with environmental disasters and emergencies. The UNEP in 1993 issued a report on the environmental effects of oil spills as a result of the 1991 Iraq-Kuwait conflict.6

U.N. High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR)
[http://www.unhcr.org/cgi-bin/texis/vtx/home]
The agency’s primary purpose is to safeguard the rights and well-being of refugees, and coordinates efforts to protect refugees and resolve refugee problems worldwide. For information specifically on Iraq, click on the “Search Refworld” link below the search box and then select Iraq from the “Country Index” box.

Two U.N. websites provide background information and major documents pertaining to Iraq, and current news and information concerning the U.N. role in Iraq, respectively:

ReliefWeb Iraq
[http://www.reliefweb.int/rw/dbc.nsf/doc104?OpenForm&rc=3&cc=irq]
This ReliefWeb Iraq page contains the latest major documents and background information on humanitarian issues pertaining to Iraq.

ReliefWeb [http://www.reliefweb.int/rw/dnc.nsf/doc100?openForm] is a project of the United Nations’ Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs (OCHA) and serves the information needs of the humanitarian community.

U.N. News Centre: Iraq
The Iraq page provides current news stories and information on the United Nations’ role and work in Iraq.

The U.N. News Centre [http://www.un.org/News/] is a U.N. news service that provides the latest daily news covering the United Nations, as well as links to other U.N. news resources.

Key U.S. Government Agencies

Following is a list of key U.S. government agencies that are currently involved in providing humanitarian assistance to Iraq. Internet addresses of these agencies as well as links to their websites on Iraq (if available) are provided.

Agency for International Development (USAID)
Assistance for Iraq
[http://www.usaid.gov/iraq/]

USAID is an independent federal government agency responsible for providing economic and humanitarian assistance around the globe. Information is provided on all USAID assistance programs by country and region.

Following are offices within USAID that also provide some type of specialized humanitarian assistance:

Office of Foreign Disaster Assistance (OFDA)
Iraq: Humanitarian Aid and Reconstruction Assistance Updates

The OFDA focuses on disaster prevention, preparedness, and delivery of disaster relief.

Office of Food for Peace (FFP)
[http://www.usaid.gov/our_work/humanitarian_assistance/ffp/]

The FFP makes commodity donations to NGOs to address the needs of food security through five-year development projects and through emergency food assistance.

Office of Transition Initiatives (OTI)
[http://www.usaid.gov/our_work/cross-cutting_programs/transition_initiatives/]
The OTI helps local partners advance peace and democracy in major conflict-prone countries, and works closely with local, national, international, and nongovernmental partners to carry out short-term, high-impact projects that increase momentum for peace, reconciliation, and reconstruction, including encouraging measures to bring the military under civilian democratic control.
Bureau of Population, Refugees, and Migration (PRM)
[http://www.state.gov/g/prm/]

The PRM of the Department of State coordinates U.S. international population policy and promotes its goals through bilateral and multilateral cooperation. It works closely with the U.S. Agency for International Development, which administers U.S. international population programs. PRM also administers and monitors U.S. contributions to international and nongovernmental organizations to assist and protect refugees abroad.

Coalition Provisional Authority (CPA) \(^7\)
[http://www.cpa-iraq.org/]

The CPA, which was responsible for the administration and humanitarian efforts in Iraq, and headed by former diplomat L. Paul Bremer III, ceased to exist as of June 28, 2004. Current information concerning Iraq may be found at the U.S. Embassy in Iraq website [see below].
