E2. ENCLOSURE 2

DEFINITIONS

E2.1.1. Fullest Possible Accounting. Completing the personnel accounting process, with respect to a person in a missing status, means the person is returned to United States control alive; the remains of the person are recovered, and, if not identifiable through visual means as those of the missing person, are identified as those of the missing person by a practitioner of an appropriate forensic science; or credible evidence exists to support another determination of the persons status.

E2.1.1.1. When new credible evidence is received indicating that an unaccounted for individual is still alive and held against their will the U.S. Government shall take all steps necessary to ensure their expeditious return to U.S. control.

E2.1.1.2. Accounting for personnel from Operations DESERT SHIELD and DESERT STORM and, absent new information that may result in a change in status, the Indochina war era, the Korean Conflict, and the Cold War, and World War II is based on practice prior to the enactment of reference (a). The USG accounts for personnel unaccounted for from these conflicts in two ways: returning live individuals to U.S. control or recovering and identifying the remains of deceased personnel. For those unaccounted for personnel who may not be accounted for by either means, but there is a preponderance of evidence that the individual is deceased and that recovery and identification of the unaccounted for person’s remains are not possible, further active accounting efforts shall cease. In these instances, however, the individual’s name shall remain on the DoD roster of unaccounted for, and declared deceased, body not recovered.

E2.1.1.3. Accounting for persons who are missing or deceased after February 10, 1996 is defined under reference (g). The USG accounts for these individuals in three ways:

E2.1.1.3.1. Returning live individuals to U.S. control;

E2.1.1.3.2. Recovering and identifying the remains of deceased personnel; or,

E2.1.1.3.3. Establishing credible evidence to support another determination of the person’s status.

E2.1.2. Missing Personnel (MP). The term "missing personnel" as used in this Directive means:

E2.1.2.1. A member of the Armed Forces on active duty who is in a missing status; or E2.1.2.2. A civilian employee of the Department of Defense or an employee of a contractor of the Department of Defense who is serving in direct support of, or accompanying, the Armed Forces in the field under orders and is in a missing status.

E2.1.3. Personnel Accounting -- Hostile. The sum of military, civil, and diplomatic efforts to locate, recover, and identify personnel unaccounted for as a result of hostile acts. Personnel accounting is a process that is first pursued by the Combatant Commander; however, this Directive applies to DoD efforts to account for individuals who have not been recovered by the time the Combatant Commander ceases active operations.

E2.1.4. Remains Recovery. The entire process of mission planning and coordination, field investigation, research, analysis, site recovery operations, reporting, and repatriation of the remains of unaccounted for personnel to U.S. control.

E2.1.5. The following terms used in this Directive are defined in reference (n):

E2.1.5.1. Hostile Act.

E2.1.5.2. Hostile Casualty.

E2.1.5.3. Unaccounted For.
